Shine

March 27 – September 2, 2013

Curated by Natalia Nekrassova and Sarah Quinton

For centuries, the light and lustre of materials have captivated cultures, artisans and artists, attributing to even simple objects an allure of beauty, power and opulence. In Shine, 200 years of human ingenuity culminate in a global collection of handmade objects that are celebratory and commonplace, excessive and unassuming. More than 50 exquisite textiles from the Museum's collections are integrated with the work of contemporary artists Carmelo Arnoldin, Rhonda Wepler and Trevor Mahovsky, and Ghost of a Dream.
